

Effect of positive Ki, Shinkiko energy

If you can be aware of these things and overcome them, your soul energy increases and you become less sensitive to negative Ki. However, if you are affected by a large amount of negative Ki all at once, or if you have been under the influence of negative Ki for generations, negative Ki energies sympathize with each other and they snowball making you stuck in negative energy. And, even though you know that you will be able to grow spiritually if you overcome your troubles, you will find it difficult to tackle the problems at hand. It becomes impossible for your soul energy alone to make a positive energy which is powerful enough to overcome the problems.

In such a case, Shinkiko, a positive energy, gives energy to a soul from outside. The energy sent to the soul makes the vibrating energy emitting from the soul more powerful and allows it to shine brighter. It not only changes negative energy inside the soul into positive energy, but also encourages the owner of the soul to become spiritually awakened, allowing him or her to transform his or her self-centered thinking into a broad, unselfish thinking, with less difficulty. The negative mind is then corrected and begins on a positive course.

This does not mean that by receiving the Shinkiko energy, you will be completely free of seemingly undesired occurrences. It simply accelerates the speed of a cycle of your mind becoming negative and positive, and enhances your soul to grow more quickly.

All things in the universe support each other

Human beings have not yet confirmed the existence of life forms on other planets. But it would not be surprising if there is another planet like the earth somewhere in the vast universe, and we cannot deny the possibility that there are life forms that have a body and mind like ours. I think it is possible that life forms, invisible to us, exist somewhere in the universe. As for us, our physical body is visible, but our energy body, our soul, is not, just like bodiless spirits cannot be seen even though they are all around us.

In my own experience, there were many times when spirits hiding inside people vanished saying "I'm going to the world of light," after receiving Shinkiko energy. Those spirits did not disappear, they became a part of cosmic life.

The spirits that received a lot of Shinkiko energy, and will be like guardian spirits and play an active role in the next stage, all say "I've bothered so many people, so now I want to apologize by supporting them," before vanishing. From their words, I learned that spirits grow by supporting and helping others.

It is just like a relationship between parent and child. A child is supported by its parents, and the parents spiritually grow by taking care of their child. And this is exactly the way the whole universe works; everything grows by being interdependent with each other. So, everything in this world is, in a way, supported by something, somewhere in the universe.

There is a lot of support from the universe to the earth, and Shinkiko energy is a very important part of that support.
