Ki — A Light Energy that Fills Mind, Body and Soul vol.8

My encounter with the Shinkiko energy

At the time when the apparatus was developed, it was used as a health appliance to heal people with unbearable pains such as stiff shoulder and back pain.

But later, the apparatus turned out to be effective for many other symptoms. At that time, the late chairman became able to Ki energy from his hands, and the energy was used to heal people not only with minor symptoms but also with major symptoms. And the Shinkiko energy began to be seen more as a healing tool.

At first, the late chairman believed that that it was bad spirits or ghosts who made people sick and unhappy, so if they were gone, people would get well and become happy. He thought all the spirits were nuisance. When he sent Ki to people, spirits who were hiding within them appeared and started crying, getting excited, talking and saying things like "It's killing me," "It hurts." He interacted with them and sometimes persuaded them by saying "You're already dead; go to the world of light."

The late chairman spread the Shinkiko therapy by healing mainly people with incurable diseases, and between his activities in Japan, he also actively went abroad. He was invited by the Republic of Belarus of the former Soviet Union to help the victims of the Chernobyl nuclear accident and also invited the victims' children to Japan and helped them to heal; healed the AIDS patients from the Dominican Republic; helped the Hopi people who were exposed to radiation from a hydrogen-bomb test and interacted with wild animals such as dolphins and baby seals that are hunted indiscriminately for Chinese medicine. He traveled around the world in order not just to heal sick people, but to spread the Shinkiko energy. The way he worked was so great that he reminded me of a superman-like energy body that works way beyond an individual's limit.

And in 1995, a bigger turning point came. The late chairman succumbed to a disease. At this time, it dawned on him how important spiritual awakening was. He learned hard way that being sick is a good chance for people to be spiritually awakened.

Why do people get sick? Why do people become unhappy and have hard times? They do not just occur to them by chance; they are the experiences that all the people have to go through in order to let their souls grow... After he realized it, the vibrating energy of Shinkiko evolved greatly. In addition to a healing vibrating energy of Shinkiko energy, which heals sick people, a vibrating energy of spiritual awakening was added.

The late chairman changed the method of Shinkiko therapy from just persuading the spirits who appear from the Ki receivers and getting rid of symptoms to just sending the energy intensively to people. He just focused on sending the energy to Ki receivers' souls and the spirits hiding within their body and mind. I followed his example and have been just focusing on sending Ki to people until now.

So, in the Shinkiko therapy, you should not be afraid of spirits or ghosts. They help us to be spiritually awakened, although sometimes affect us with negative energies, and become our spiritual guardian when their negative energies change into positive.

From the late chairman's experiences, it became clear that the vibrating energy of Shinkiko energy has a nature which enhances spiritual awakening. And we changed the way we look at the High Genki apparatus: we began to look at it as a transferring device that charges people's soul with Shinkiko energy, rather than as a health appliance. The Shinkiko energy is a lofty exquisite vibrating energy sent from the universe. The High Genki apparatus is a machine that converts the energy to a level where people can use it.

If you receive Shinkiko energy, it encourages you to be spiritually awakened and allows your vibrating energy to tune in to the lofty vibrating energy of the great universe, and your consciousness heightens fast. In a sense, the High Genki apparatus could be regarded as a communication instrument which connects the great will of the universe and humans.

Overcoming the death of the late chairman

March 1995, the late chairman had suddenly collapsed from a cerebral hemorrhage but came back to work two months later; from this experience, he drastically changed his mind about the Shinkiko therapy.

He became aware that everything happens for a reason and it is important for people to be spiritually awakened with what they experienced, and that the Shinkiko energy is a light that not only heals diseases but also gives energy to the spirit itself and brings about spiritual awakening. The late chairman went all over Japan, from Hokkaido to Okinawa, to run a seminar to talk about his idea, and after finishing it, he suddenly passed away in December of that year.

At the time when I encountered with the Shinkiko energy in 1992, I had never dreamed of his death three years later and taking over his work.

At first I did not really know why I had to take over his great achievement. But later I came to think that I must be the one who should know about the energy more than anyone else, and received Shinkiko energy earnestly. And then I realized that everything happens for a reason.

The late chairman learned clock technology after graduating a junior high school; without the skill and knowledge, he would not have been able to develop the High Genki apparatus, and the Shinkiko energy might not have existed.

I feel that my getting sick from work and managing to be what I am today without much fuss, since my father collapsed and died --- must have been parts of the huge "plan," which had been organized many ages ago. What I mean is, the universe had made my father make the Ki transferring machine and made his son, the former engineer, to take over his work in order to improve the machine, because the universe wanted to send Shinkiko energy to the earth and let as many people as possible to use it.

As for me, my career as an engineer did actually help. When I first came into the world of Ki, I was just too busy with my present work; but in the course of doing the work, I finally found out where I should head for and what my role was. If I had not worked as an engineer, I probably did not hit upon an idea to improve the performance of Ki products and the High Genki apparatus. I think that, anyone's experiences are not fruitless; they may help later in life. Although we feel bad about the things that did not work out as we had expected, I feel that anything we experience in our lives will help us someday in life. When I became aware that every single thing happened in my life is connected to everything else, I could not help thanking a "great someone," who lets us live.
